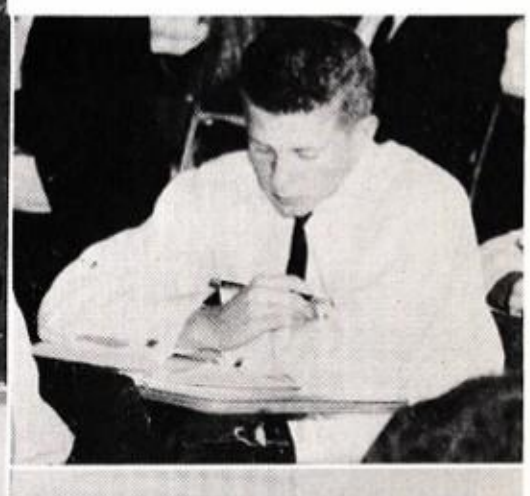
DOWN THE WAYS



THE 1961 CLIPPER

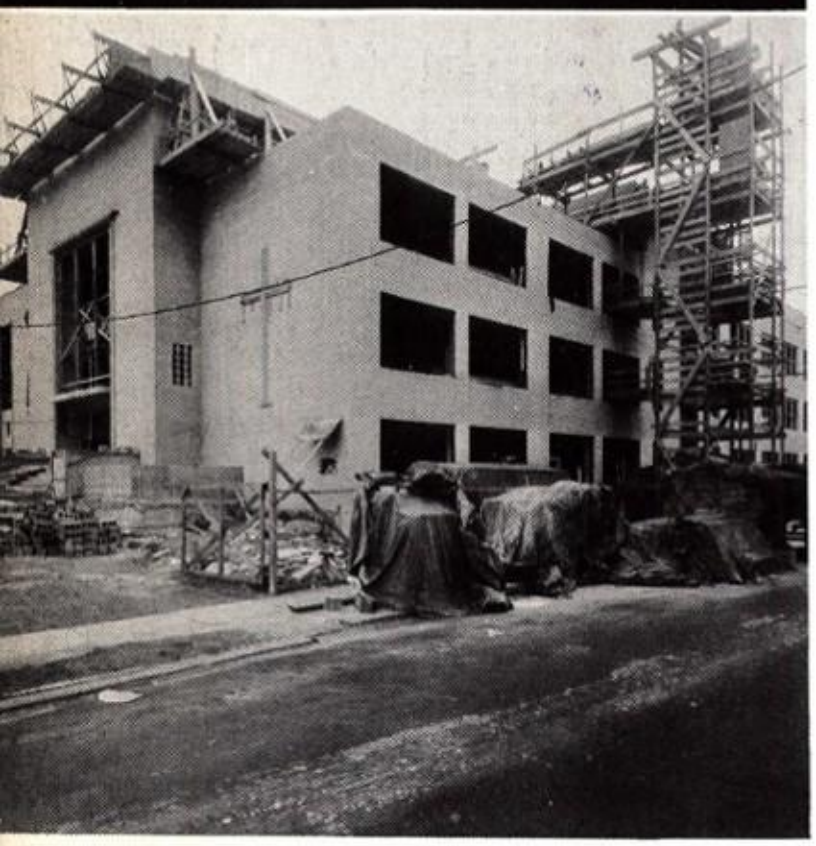
created by the first graduating class of

• IN EACH PHASE OF ITS CONSTRUCTION

XAVERIAN

HIGH SCHOOL
BROOKLYN • NEW YORK

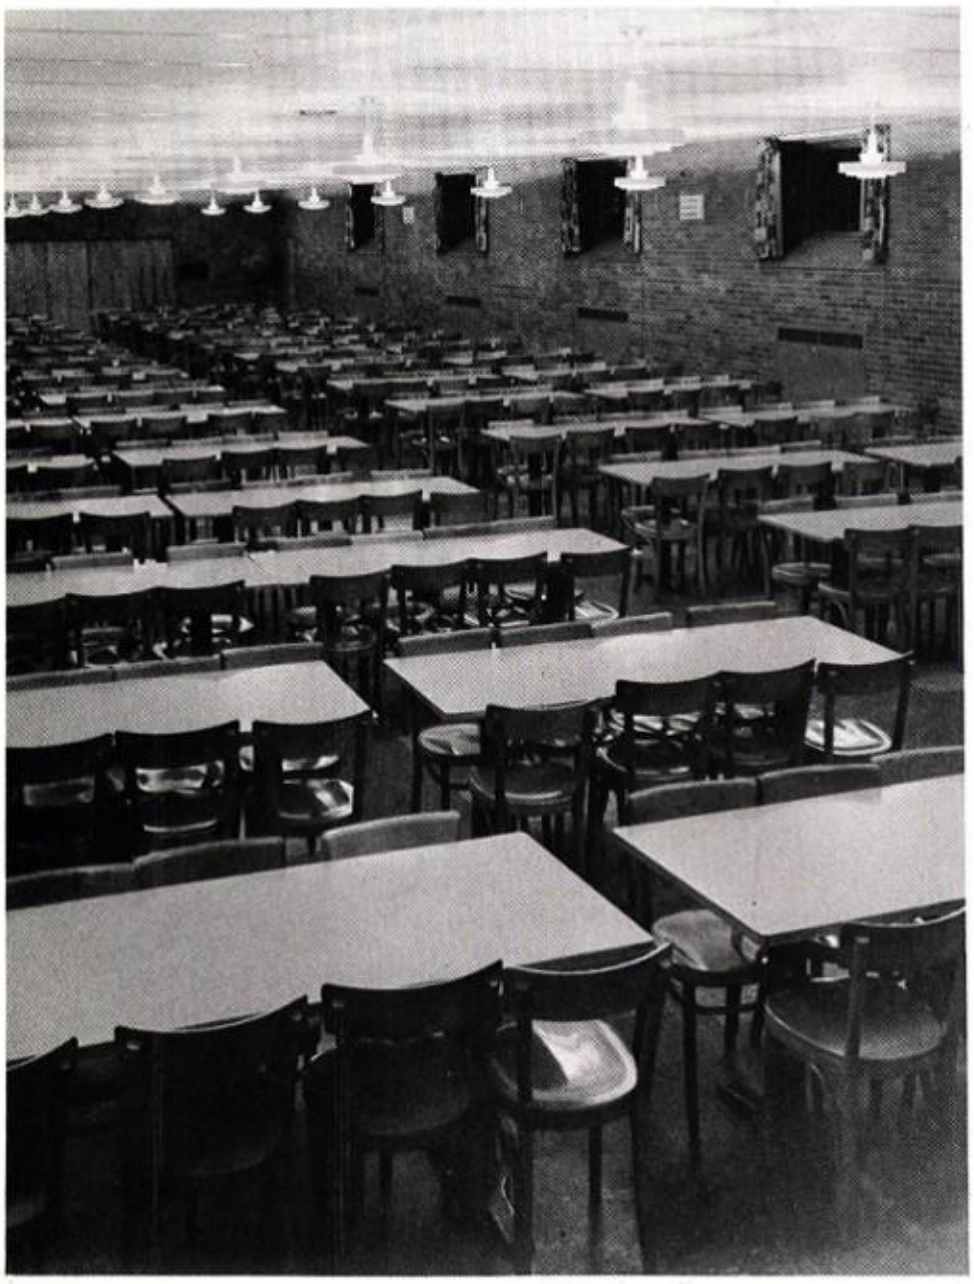
The four stages here depicted were but a part of the construction that went on even after the opening of school. Building what was to be one of the most modern schools in Brooklyn was no mean feat and evidences of it—such as the unfinished library and gym—can well be remembered by the Class of '61. And in a way, the growth, development and completion of the school building is significant of a change that has taken place and that will continue to do so amongst Xaverian's students. Just as the school has gone through many changes, so have its students; and the CLIPPER, fully outfitted for the long voyage to come, has been successfully launched.



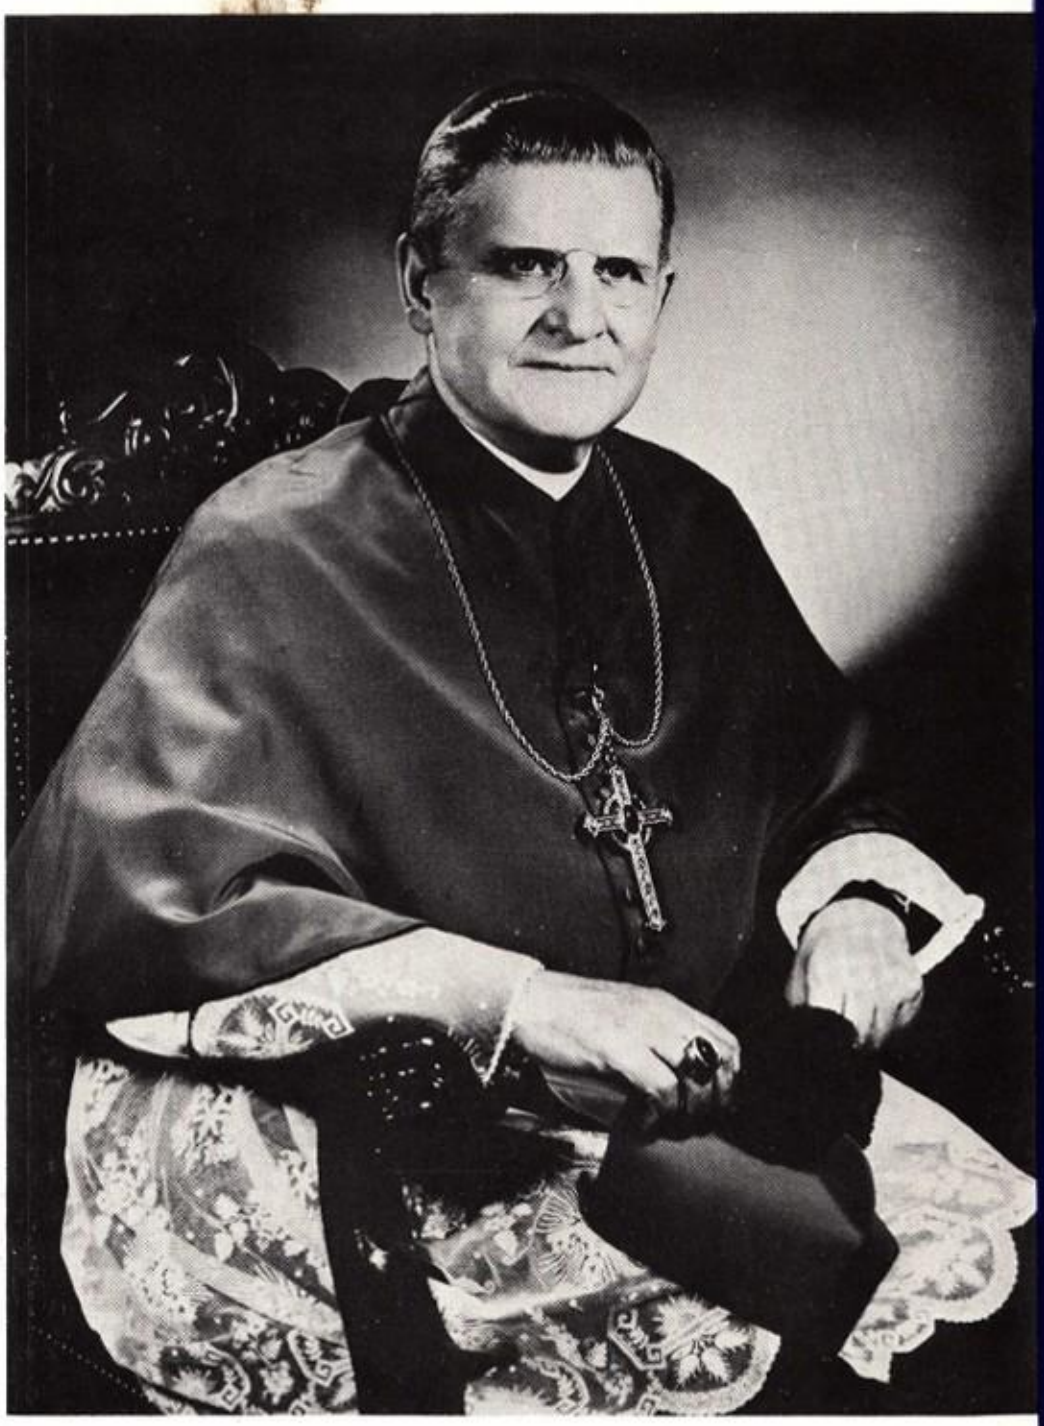
XAVERIAN HIGH SCHOOL

"... Each Played Her

Admired, envied and imitated, Xaverian High School has served for four years and will continue to serve many years hence. Completed in 1957, Xaverian has facilities for about forty brothers and for over fourteen hundred students. Simplicity, beauty and practicality exemplify the architectural design of this modern building. Since its beginning four years ago it has been undergoing a gradual evolution. The foresighted planning of the faculty has brought the building to its present state of efficiency.



Sovereign Part In Making Me . . ."



MOST REVEREND BRYAN J. McENTEGART, D.D.
Bishop of Brooklyn

With quiet determination and priestly zeal His Excellency Bryan J. McEntegart continues to pursue his labors begun four years ago as Bishop of Brooklyn. The people of Brooklyn will always be indebted to him for his overwhelming success in the Diocesan High School Campaign.

RIGHT REV. MONSIGNOR HENRY M. HALD

The Xaverian unit of the Sodality, directed by Br. Cahil, holds weekly meetings at which the sodalists further their Christian education. The Sodality arranges retreats for all, and each year sponsors food drives to help the needy. However, the essence of the Sodality's effect on its members is the realization that Our Blessed Mother can bring us closer to her Divine Son, Jesus Christ.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

The most important organization in Xaverian is the Student Activities Council which serves as the medium between the students and the school's administration. The officers chosen by the students to represent them have done an admirable job in giving the students the opportunity to make their suggestions for improvement known to the administration.

The main purpose of Xaverian's weekly publication, the LOCAL, was to keep students up to date on the weekly events and activities in Xaverian. This purpose has been achieved with great success through the efforts of a hardworking staff who printed "all the news that fits" and put it into the hands of the students at the beginning of each school week.

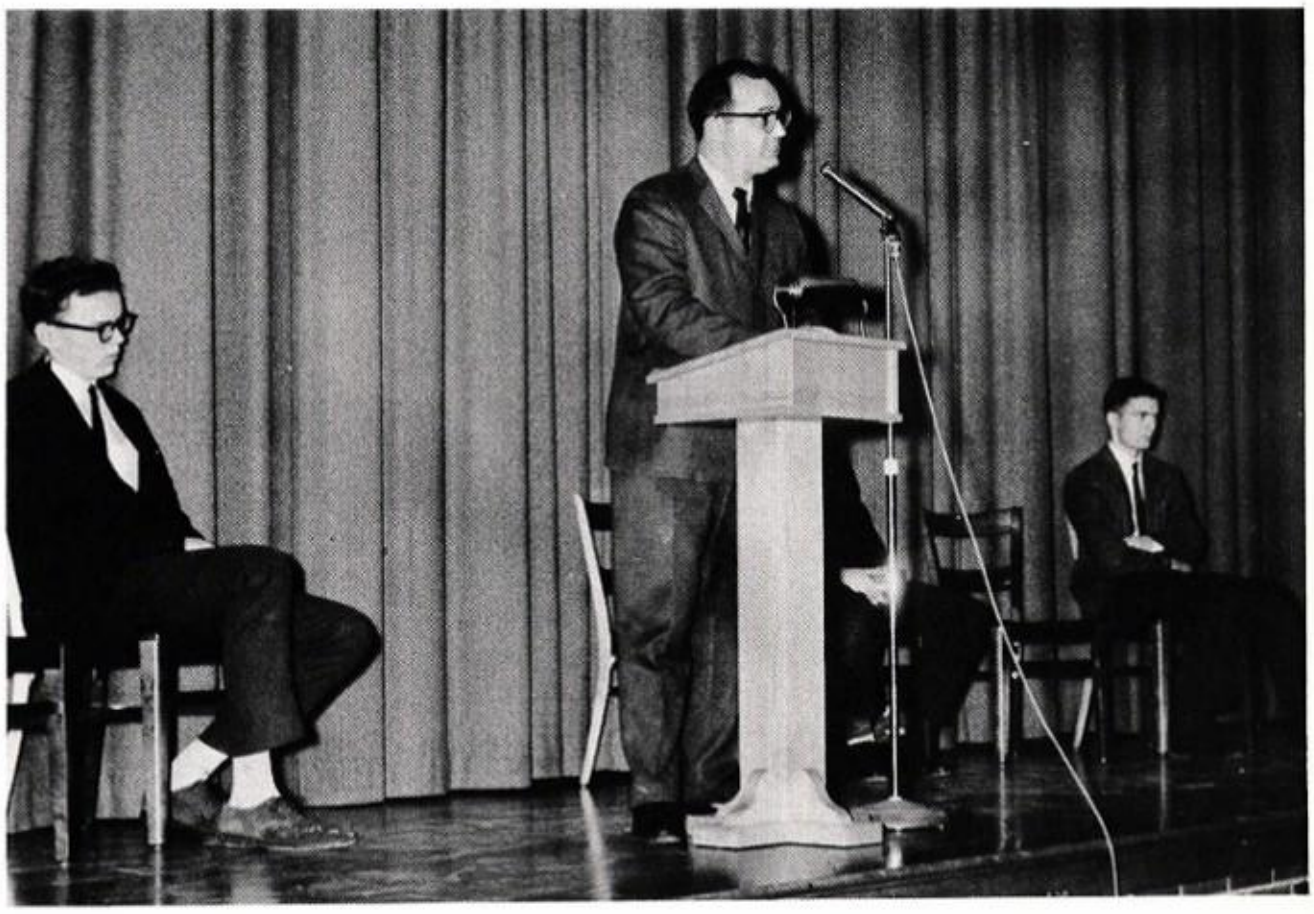
NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

JUNIOR AND SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS . . . over 70 of the school's 700 juniors and seniors were elected to the National Honor Society last year.

A SEA OF FACES . . . over 120 of Xaverian"s 700 freshmen and sophomores were eligible for the Society which represents the leaders and scholars of the school.

LEO HONOR SOCIETY

The Leo Honor Society of Xaverian High School consists of the top ranking students of the Junior and Senior classes. The purpose of the society is to foster the spirit which is necessary for the development of good Catholic citizens. To accomplish this the members have put out a bulletin of information concerning colleges and have presented guest speakers to help keep the student body informed.



HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS . . . Richard Farrell and Frank O'Donnell listen as guest speaker, Mr. Armand Starace, speaks to the Honor Society about the duties of a Congressman.

LEO HONOR SOCIETY . . . First Row: A. Tighe, A. Frontera, D. Grimaldi, R. Santulli, J. Rubino, L. Palermo, B. Dillon. Second Row: J. Wiesmeier, G. Carney, F. Hubbard, J. O'Leary. Third Row: R. Alicata. Fifth Row: P. Grieco, R. Ariola, R. Mawdsley, T. O'Donnell, C. Arida, A. Lento, J. Faulkner.

DRAMA CLUB

YOU'LL LOOK GREAT . . . exclaims Mr. Morressey combing the hair of Henry Nocella while other members of the Dramatics Club look on.

LAST MINUTE INSTRUCTIONS . . . are given to J. Card and R. Wall by moderator, Mr. Morressey, before the performance of The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial.

AS THE JURY LOOKS ON, defense attorney (Gerry Porzio) harrasses the defendant (Phil Tulimieri) forcing him to search his conscience.

After six weeks of intense rehearsal under the direction of Mr. John Morressey, the Dramatics Club gave a superb performance of The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial. This play, with its all male cast, offered the actors an opportunity to prove themselves, for the entire play is focused on the characterizations of the leading roles, which were played by Tony Spadaro, Gerry Porzio, and Ed Coster; Phil Tulimieri was acclaimed the outstanding actor. The Dramatics Club looks forward to another rewarding production under the direction of Mr. Morressey.

HATT WITH A HAT . . . a scene from the "Caine Mutiny" depicts Ronald Hatt vividly explaining an experience to Ed Coster, the prosecuting attorney.

CALM, COOL, AND COLLECTED . . . Captain Queeg (Phil Tulimieri) answers the prosecutor (Ed Coster) in a scene from the play, "Caine Mutiny."

Perhaps what best exemplifies the debating team is the Crusader trophy which the team won at Holy Cross College and which now hangs in the main vestibule of the school. Through the year the debators have never slackened, but rather increased all efforts to afford Xaverian with only the best possible in awards and trophies. With their record the team can honestly boast that it has succeeded.

"AND IN CONCLUSION . . ." are familiar words from veteran speaker Bob Giasi as he finishes one of his many fiery debates.

DEBATE CLUB

SPOILS OF WAR . . . are exhibited to all who wish to see the awards won by Xaverian's Debate Teams over the past four years.

LISTEN MY CHILDREN AND YOU SHALL HEAR . . . juniors give some hints to underclass speakers.

CRUSADER COMES TO BROOKLYN . . . J. Pierini, C. O'Flynn, G. Hennigan and R. Giasi pose with their "Crusader"—Holy Cross Debate Trophy.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

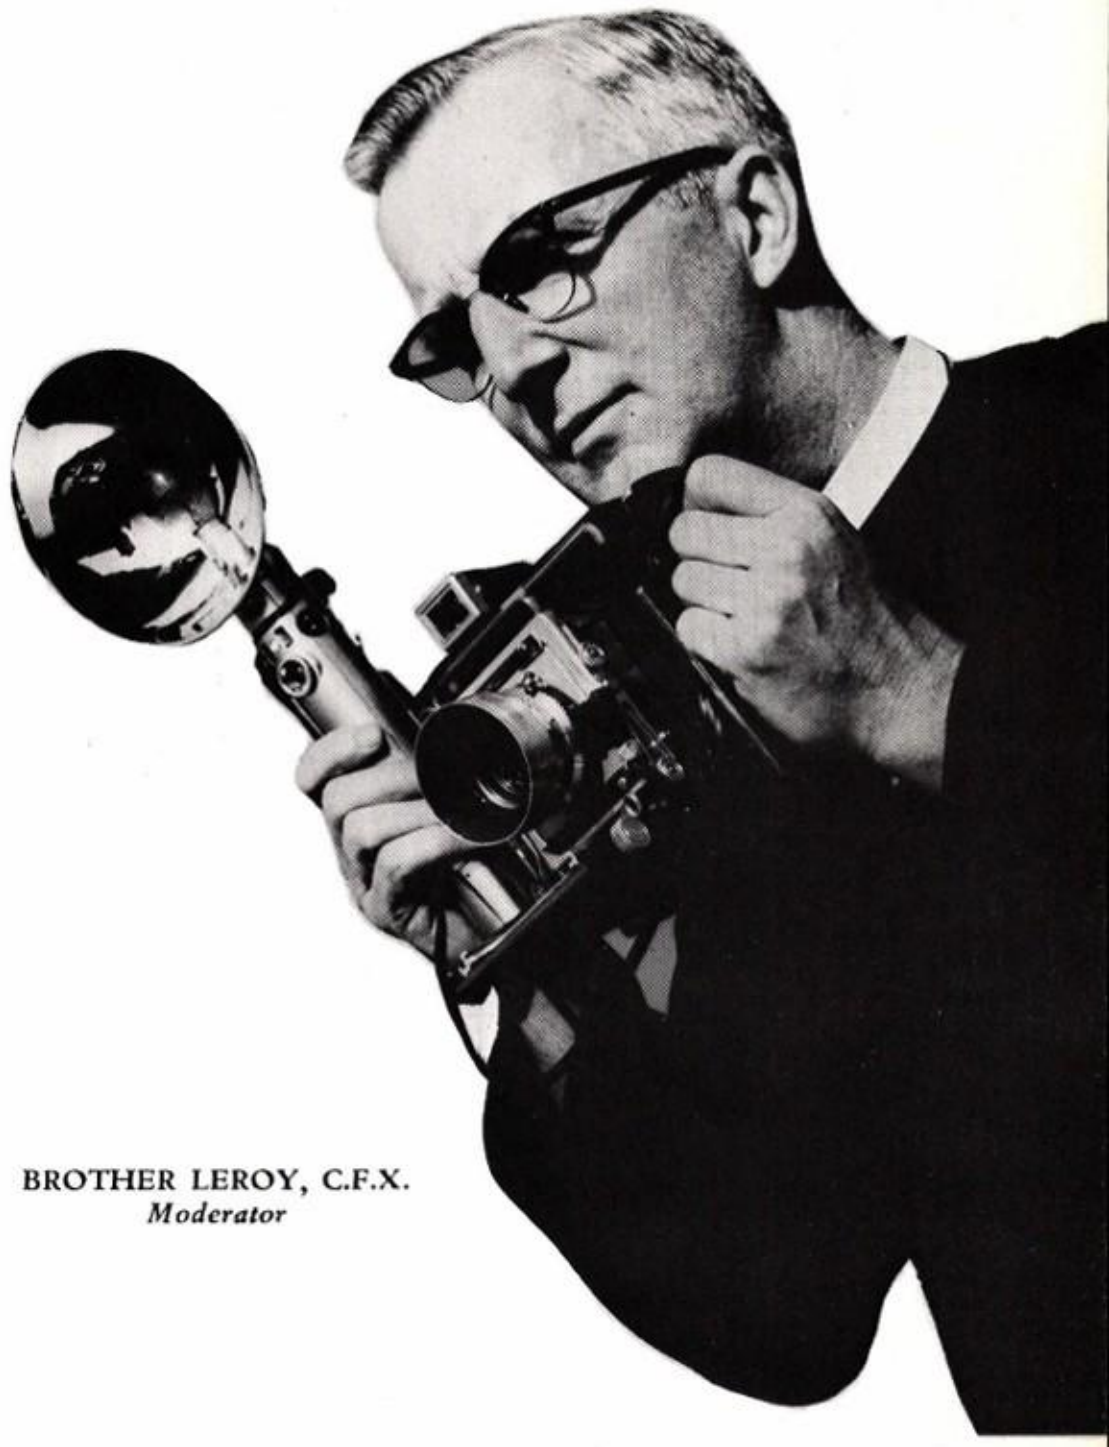
Under the experienced leadership of Bro. Leroy, the Photography Club has catered to the interests of the student darkroom enthusiasts. The members received instruction in fundamental photographic procedure, viewed slides on special aspects of photography, and practiced their skill on the unsuspecting student body. As usual, this year the Photography Club has worked very closely with the school publications, the X-Press, Clipper, and Local.

WE'LL MAKE IT A FIVE BY SEVEN . . . says Bill Connor demonstrating the use of the enlarger to fellow photographers in the darkroom.

SOME DAY MY PRINTS WILL COME . . . sigh two members of the Camera Club waiting patiently for their pictures to develop.



BROTHER LEROY, C.F.X.
Moderator

REMEMBER THIS ONE . . . says Bob Rice to Bob Canino as the two reminisce over the photo file.

IL PENSEROSO . . . flanked by sports editor, Paul Grieco, left, and smiling Tom Gavin, Brother De Montfort, C.F.X., ponders the innumerable problems of layout, captions and headlines.

In its four years of recording and preserving the school life of Xaverian, the X-Press has undergone a change in format. The erstwhile four-page magazine is now a twelve-page quarterly. Under the direction of Brother DeMontfort, the X-Press staff has toiled to produce a student publication which has been eagerly accepted by its readers.

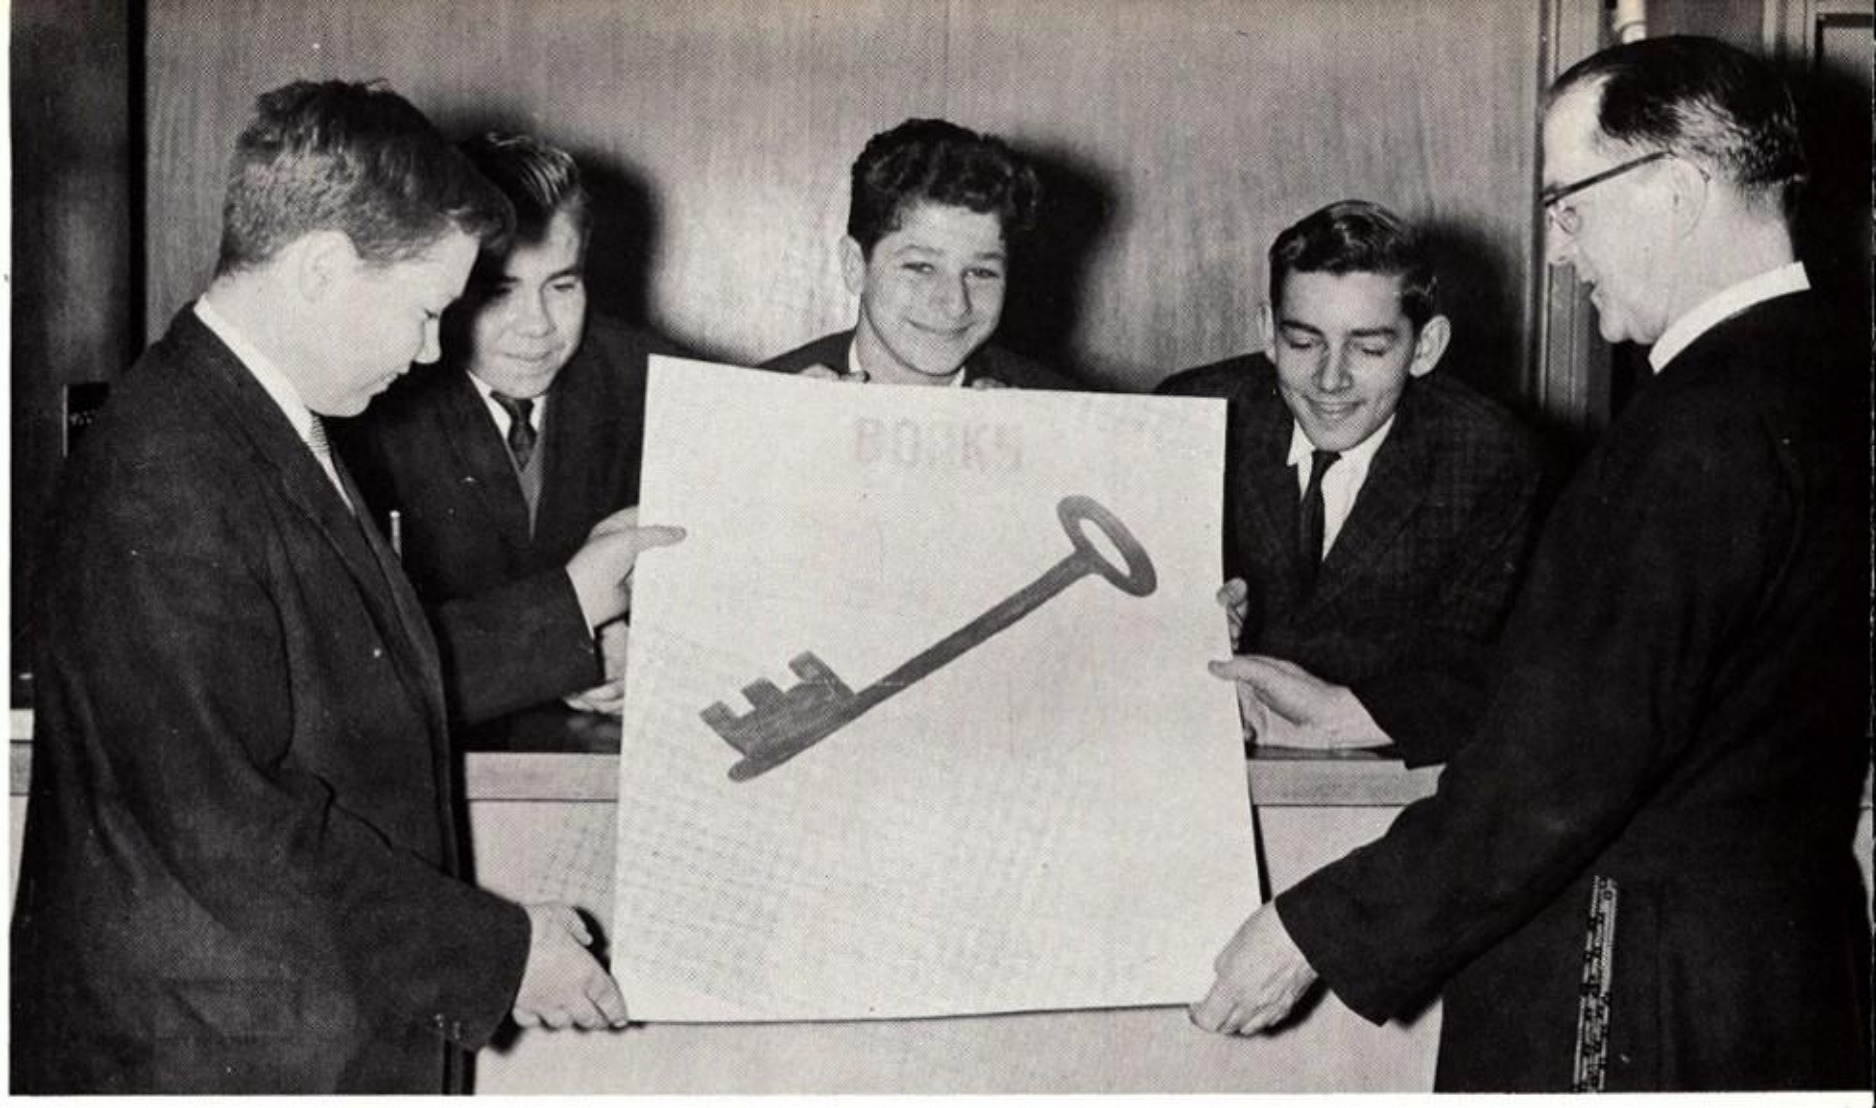
After four years of earnest practice and constant planning, the Glee Club has achieved an enviable position among Brooklyn choral groups. Under the zealous direction of Mr. William Jacques, the club gave an inspiring Christmas Concert in conjunction with Fontbonne Hall Glee Club. After winning the "Outstanding" trophy at the annual spring C.Y.O. competition, the club continued its success by climaxing its season with a superb Spring Concert.

TAKE A BOW, STAN . . . Mr. Jacques presents the glee club's nimble fingered pianist, Stan Wietzychowski, as the audience shows their appreciation at the clubs annual Christmas concert.

A STAR IS BORN . . . Richie Dinu displays his vocal talent at the Spring Concert during the Glee Club's salute to New York.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, IT'S A WONDER TOWN . . . These are the sentiments echoed by the Club, singing the merits of their favorite city.

LET'S GO OVER THAT LINE AGAIN . . . Members of the Glee Club make last minute preparations before going on stage.

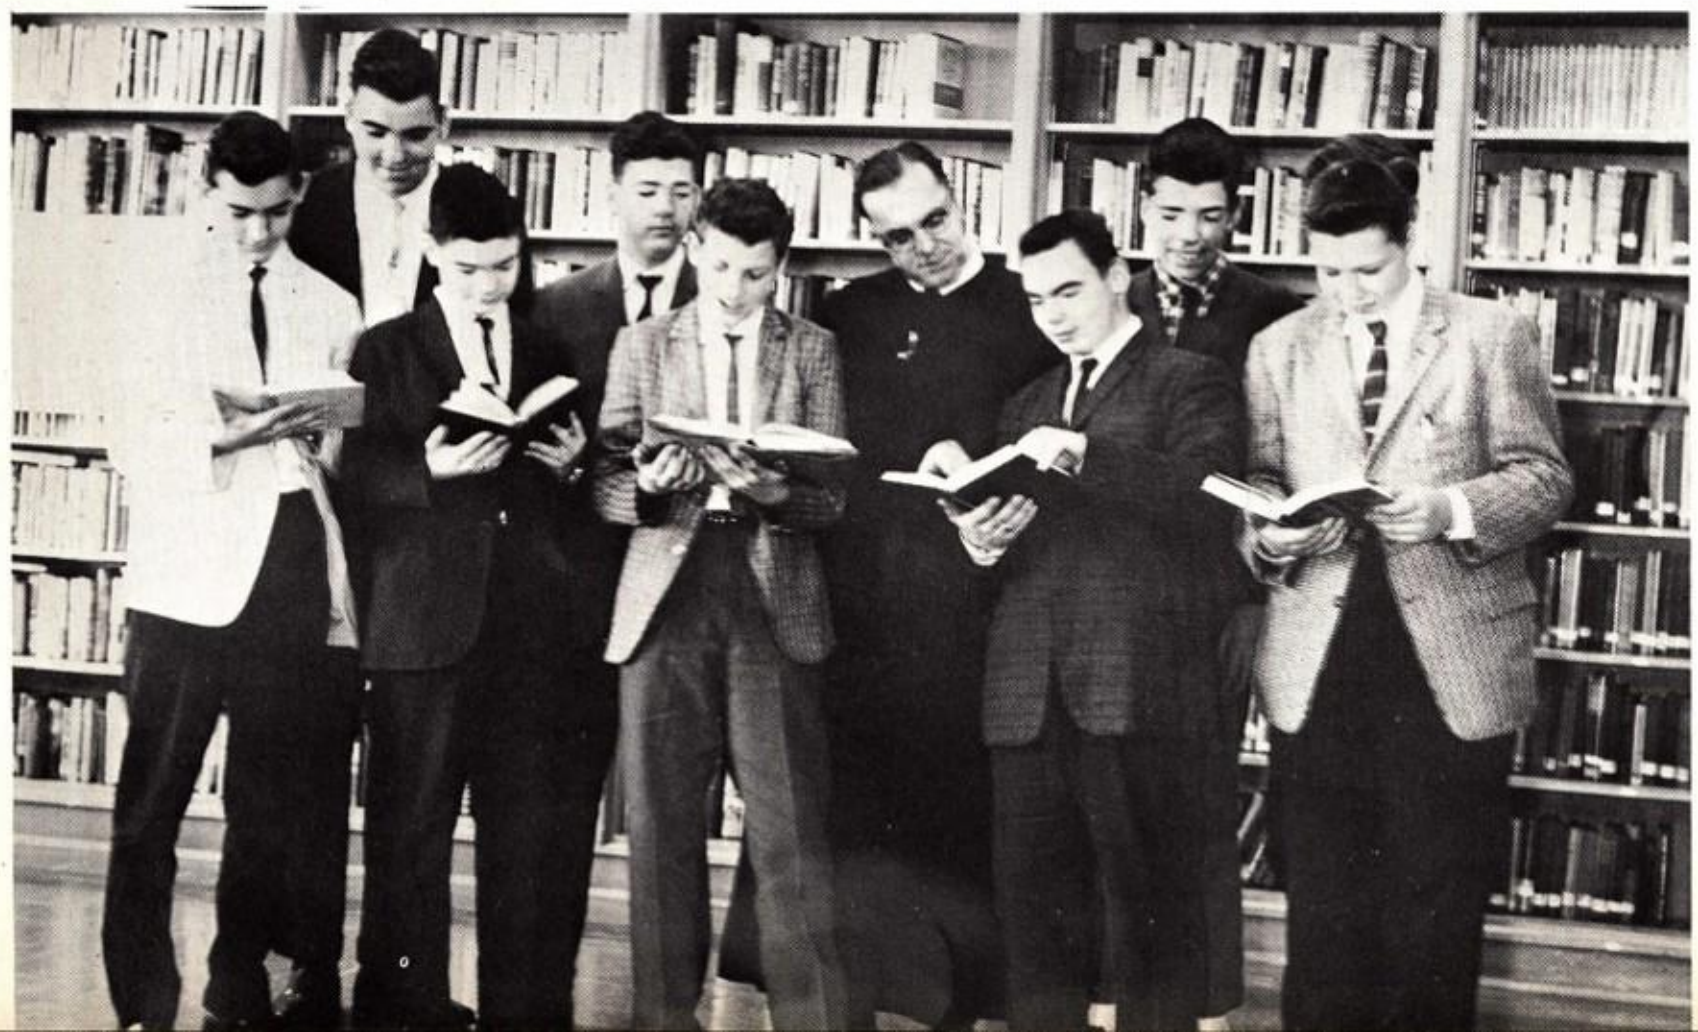


BOOKS THE KEY TO KNOWLEDGE . . . Richard Comparato smiles broadly over the poster which is one of dozens drawn up for use in the library.

LIBRARY CLUB

Although the Library Club is a small and little-known group, it performs one of the most important functions in the school. Directed by Brother John Edward, the members check books in and out of the library, stamp and catalogue them and prepare them for the shelf. Without the daily efforts of the club it would be impossible to prepare the more than 2,000 volumes annually which are made available to the students.

BOYS THE KEY TO A WELL-KEPT LIBRARY . . . even the manner in which a new book should be opened is not too small a matter to be explained by Brother John Edward, C.F.X., to his willing workers (l. to r.) S. Sass, D. Liguori, R. Murphy, R. Golden, W. McNamara, Brother John Edward, C.F.X., W. Griffiths, R. Gaughan, E. O'Connor, M. Rybeck (hidden).

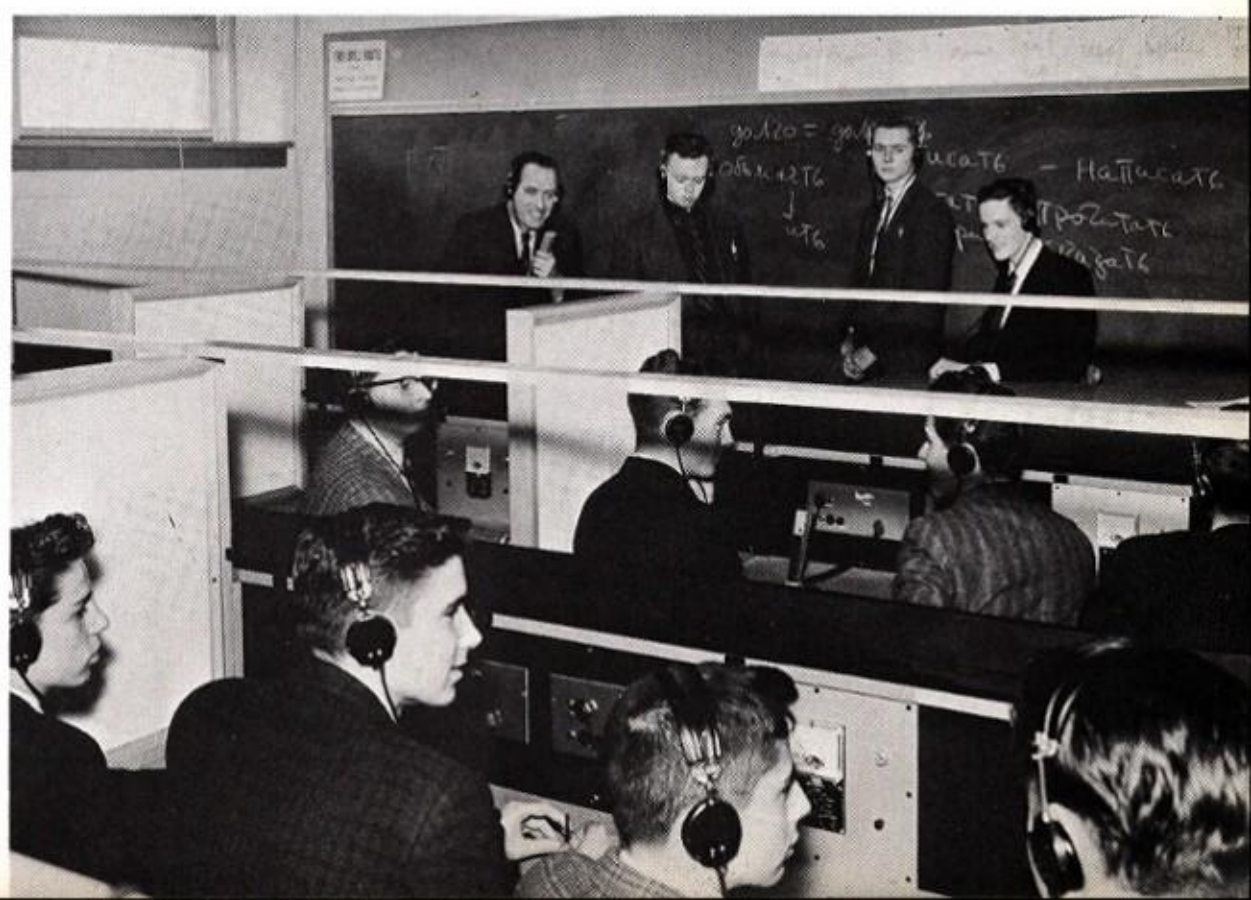


EL CIRCULO ESPANOL . . . meets under the direction of Brother Thomas Patrick to learn and discuss the spirit and manner of living which is Spain.

EN FRANCAIS . . . John DiMartino, President of the French Club, addresses members of the group during one of their weekly meetings as Brother Benignus, C.F.X., looks on.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

One of the lesser known clubs devoted to the cultural aspect of the student is the Language Club. It consists of three divisions: Spanish, French and Russian. In addition to encouraging greater fluency and aural comprehension in the foreign tongue, members learn of the countries' customs through records and often through personal accounts given by the clubs' moderators.



THE RUSSIAN CLUB, XAVERIAN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE SPACE AGE . . . Mr. B. McQuillian discusses Yuri Gargarin's space feat with the Russian Club.

NEW INVENTIONS . . . Robert Vitolo displays his "Rain Trigger," which automatically puts up the top of a convertible when it begins to rain. This project won him first prize in the Diocesan Science Fair.

The Science Fair strives to help students learn more about the world around them, and to develop their knowledge of the natural sciences. The exhibitions, directed by Br. Bonaventure, attract many, and this year in the Diocesan Science Fair, Xaverian captured three prizes, enhancing its reputation.

SCIENCE FAIR

SCIENCE FAIR WINNERS Robert Vitolo, John Riordon, and George Kelly, who won first, second and third prizes in the Diocesan Science Fair, are congratulated by Br. Bonaventure, the Xaverian Science Fair moderator.

INTERESTED SPECTATORS . . . admiring projects on display at the Diocesan Science Fair held at Xaverian last spring.

BONDS ARE STRENGTHENED . . . between father and son at the annual Communion Breakfast through reception of the Holy Eucharist.

DID YOU HEAR THE ONE ABOUT . . . says Brother Christopher as he charms members of the Circle at a tea for the mothers.

The Xaverian Circle is truly a unifying factor in the student's life. Primarily it provides the parents an occasional meeting with the faculty on school matters. Secondarily it aids the school with such functions as the card party and the raffle drive. However, its chief benefit is bringing the parents and the students closer together by the Communion Breakfasts and Sports Night.

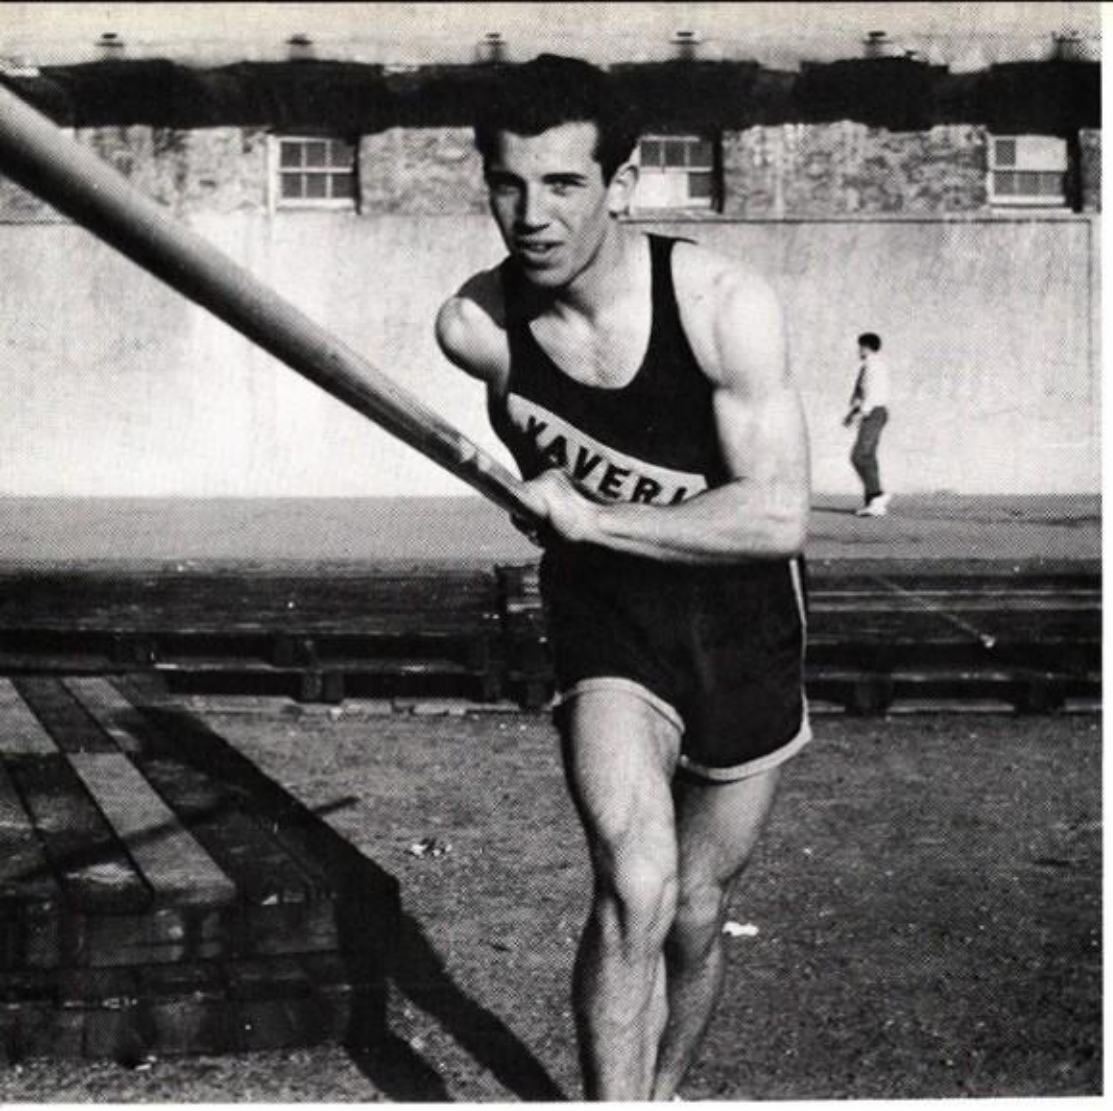
XAVERIAN'S PRIDE AND JOY . . . Jim Warren bursts over the finish line to pile up points for the Cross Country team at Van Courtlandt Park.

The scent of wintergreen, the freezing cold of a Mount Saint Michael Polar Bear Meet, or the fire of a starter's gun all remind one of the excitement of track. The season has given the team many things to be happy about. Even to the end of the year in the Eastern States Championship the team ran well, winning the two-mile relay in a record time of 7.58.5. Jim Warren, Ed Huth, Charlie Piazza, and Charlie Accettola all have given the team the push that meant victory. Winning the Junior Midget Championship of New York City marked the climax and conclusion of the season, a season of thrills and disappointments and strenuous competitive effort.



POISED FOR THE FLIGHT . . . Tony Miserandino displays the expert form he has developed in becoming a top notch vaulter.

"LET'S GO XAVERIAN" . . . Loughlin outjumps Clipper at Garden game. The scoreboard offers little joy for Xaverian rooters.

THE QUIET HUSH is broken only by the thump of the ball as it hits the rim and either falls through or bounces off.

Seasoned

"THAT DARN THING . . ." A. Perri, 2B, decides to end the whole affair and take the ball.

The spirit of competition is the pulse of Xaverian's student body, and this pulse is quickened through participation in the diversified intramural program consisting of basketball, bowling, football and softball. While bowling spans almost the whole school year and claims more than 300 members, football initiates the intramural season followed by basketball in the winter and softball in the spring till the closing day of school.

SENIORS

SENIOR OFFICERS

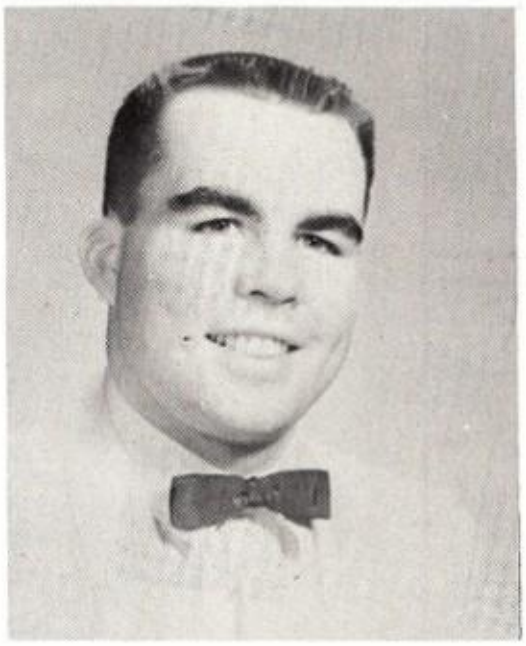
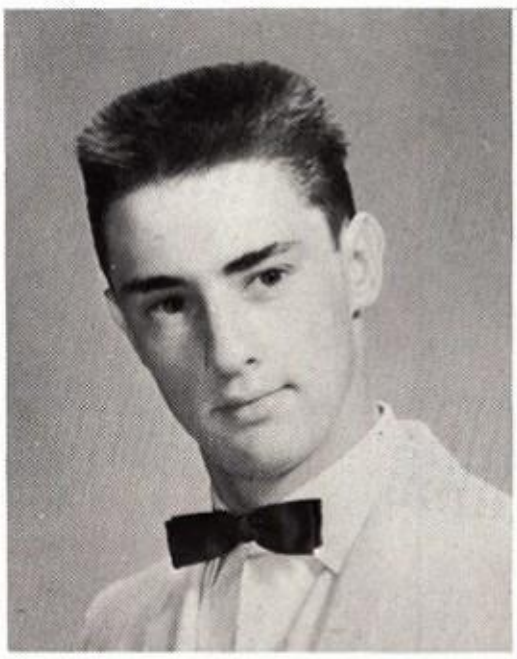
JAMES WARREN
President

Had a poll been conducted for the busiest senior, those who knew him would have chosen James Warren, President of the Student Body. His widely known success in track since his freshman year is the result of devoted practice. His four year scholastic effort at Xaverian has been complemented by being an active member of the Sodality. His election as president was the student's acknowledgment of Jim's four years of conscientious work in behalf of the school.



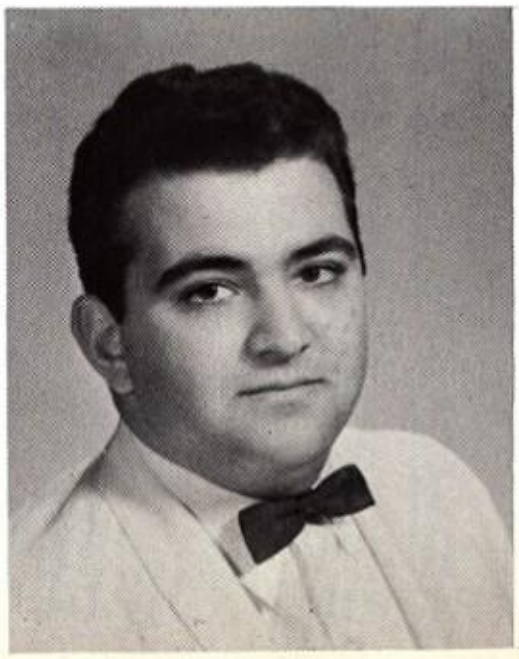
JOHN MONAHAN
Vice-President

John Monahan is probably best known for his athletic accomplishments at Xaverian. Throughout his four years here, he has excelled as a member of both the J.V. and Varsity Basketball, as well as Baseball teams. But even though his athletic record is well-known, John cannot be forgotten for his work as an officer of SAC. He has served as Vice-President during his freshman and senior years. The excellence of John's high school years has definitely earned for him a splendid beginning for his college career.



MICHAEL O'NEILL
Secretary

Rarely does one find a person who is such an asset to a school. Mike has given Xaverian both his scholastic and athletic ability. A member of SAC and the baseball team for four years, he served as Secretary of SAC in his senior year as well as fulfilling the manifold duties of Intramurals Commissioner. As a result of his scholastic ability and continued hard work he was awarded a New York State Regents Scholarship. Mike has given his services to Xaverian for the past four years, and both sides have greatly benefited from his leadership.



PHILIP CUCURA
Treasurer

One of the busiest students in Xaverian is the Treasurer of the Student Activities Council, Philip Curcura. Phil, "wittiest and most popular" man in the Class of '61, captained the Varsity Bowling Team as a junior, managed the baseball team for two years and served as a class officer for four years. As Chairman of the Raffle Drive and a "big" member of the Dance Committee, he has kept SAC's financial records straight. His wit and pleasant personality have made for him many friends at Xaverian and will continue to do so in the future.

A VOTE OF THANKS . . . Prom Chairman, Vin Ciccia; SAC President, Jim Warren, and their dates take time out from Prom activities to pose.

"MOONLIGHT, A JUNE NIGHT AND YOU" . . . Academic cares disappear while seniors and their dates danced to the sweet strains of Joe Carroll's orchestra.

VIEW FROM THE BALCONY . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ciccia and their son, Vin, look on as Vin's date, Lynne Pineda, happily waves to a friend.

BUT THE NIGHT'S STILL YOUNG . . . pleads A. Piazza while his date's mother is about to convince him that the law is in her hand.

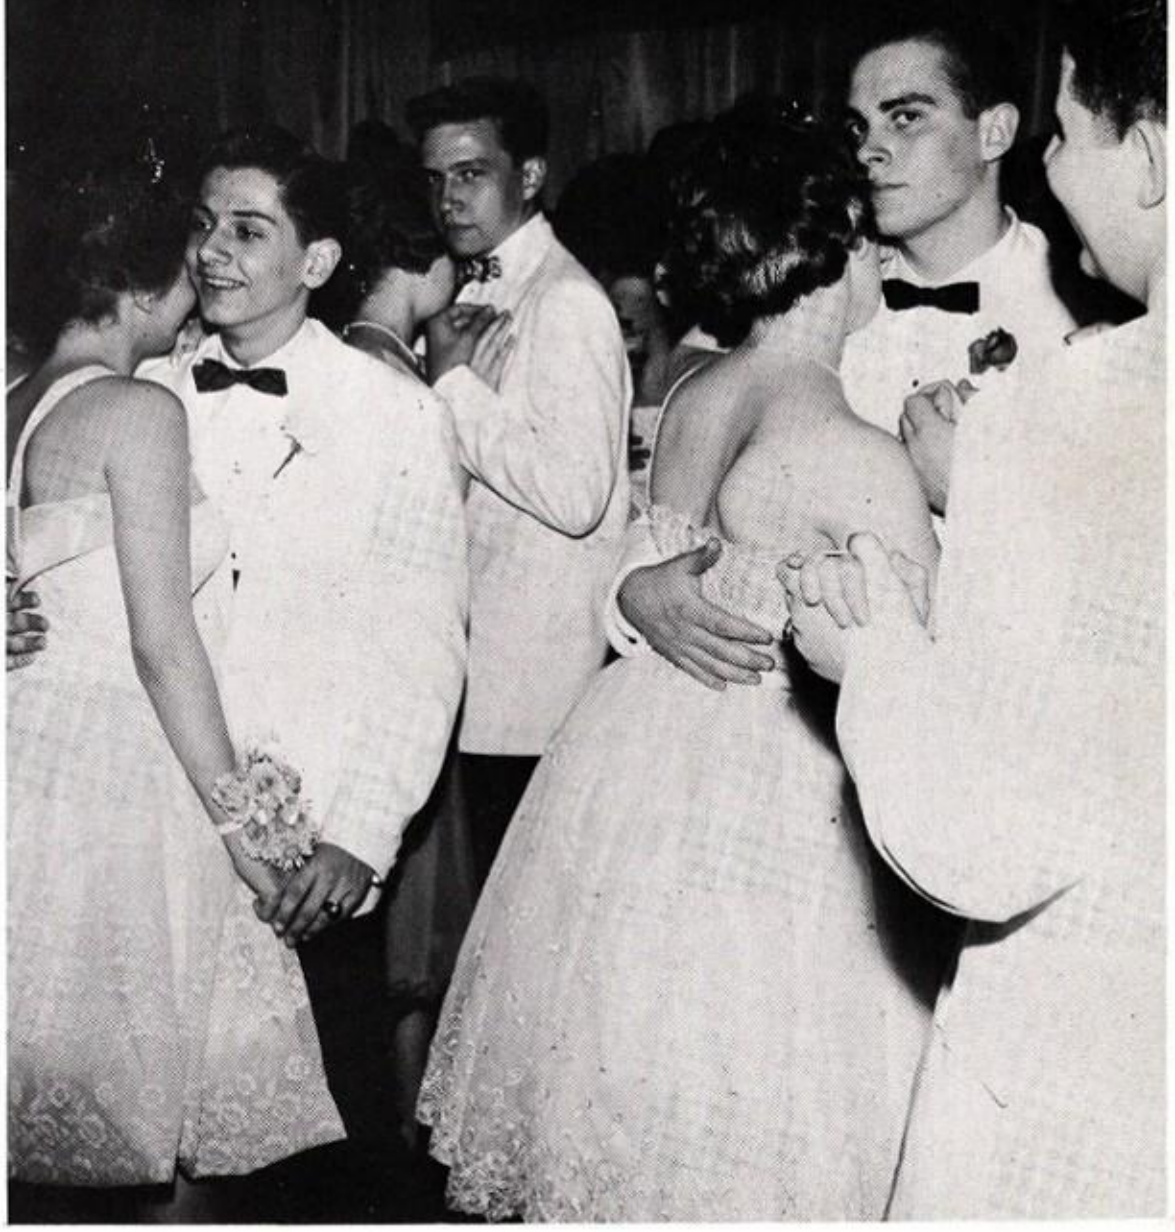
THE GRAND MARCH . . . The Waldorf's Starlight Roof is the setting as the graduating seniors and their dates complete the promenade.



I COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT . . . seems to be the song that is playing and the thoughts that are reflected in the faces of the many couples.
